The Fetsa Tlala, food security and nutrition programme launched by President Jacob Zuma event was hosted on 24 October 2013 at the Batlharo Stadium in Kuruman (Northern Cape Province). In attendance were the MEC for Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development; executive mayor of John Taolo Gaetsewe District and members of the House of Traditional and Non-governmental Organisations. The purpose of Fetsa Tlala is to produce enough food to meet the population's current and future food needs. Fetsa Tlala is a national call for all citizens to participate in the eradication of poverty, hunger and malnutrition. President Jacob Zuma said the government will soon announce plans to assist farmers in the drought-stricken areas of the Northern Cape. "We know that this area.
